BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE

The Book of Remembrance has been brought to the altar. Please remember pray for those souls.

REFLECTION

Job 7:17-18 What are human beings, that you make so much of them, that you set your mind on them, visit them every morning, test them every moment,

Job raises profound questions about our relationship with God. A similar question is probed in Psalm 8:5: “What is man that you should be so mindful of him?” In short, why does God care about us?

The only way I can make sense of God's enduring love is to think of my relationship with my children. Bringing my newborn home from hospital, I couldn't breastfeed, was obsessed about his weight gain, worry for his welfare would wake me in the night and topple my priorities. Why did I care so much?
The answer is simple yet profound as is for why God cares about us: this child is my flesh and blood, my miracle. We, too, are children of God. When we put our relationship with God in the context of family, this changes the equation. The love I have for my children cannot be explained yet it explains everything.
And so it is with God.

Christmas Pageant. Rehearsals are pageant and in the choir.
